

Item for the Daily Log - 22 April 1953

STATINTL
STATINTL

After consultation with [redacted] I have informed both Mr. Robert Morris and Mr. Richard Arens of the Senate Judiciary Staff that [redacted]

STATINTL

[redacted] to Moscow. He has publically shown sympathy to Communism and antipathy to the United States. In private he has shown a somewhat contrary point of view. He is fuzzy-minded but, on the whole, more favorable to the other side. He probably favors some sort of Communist system for India. I have pointed out to both Morris and Arens that this information is most sensitive and that it will not be put in writing.